

Contents June 2008

Departments

12 Editorial

24 Tribute Film director and Condé Nast Traveller contributor Anthony Minghella

27 First word Train stations are destinations in their own right, says Andrew Martin

43 Word of mouth What's hot and happening around the world

60 Short break You can turn your family into native Americans. How? Take them to Cornwall and camp in a teepee, says Jonathan Bastable.

75 Wear to go Diamond hummingbirds and exotic flowers spirit you away to tropical shores; beauty products to pack. Plus: big bangles and statement cuffs

83 Where to stay Los Sauces in El Calafate, plus four more hotels in Patagonia; five Provençal B&Bs in Cassis; Room Service Hamburg; Weekender goes to Tuddenham Mill in Suffolk. Plus: Suite talk

94 Reader offer Save 20 per cent on a luxury holiday in Asia

97 Great ride Norway's favourite cycle ride, alongside a railway track, will take your breath away – quite literally

100 Foreign correspondence A toast to the water in El Paso

103 Diary What in the world is happening in June?

156 Competition Win a week's holiday for two on Mauritius

160 Exposure Even if New Guinea is unlikely to appear in many holiday brochures, can the remote Kombai tribe remain unaffected by the outside world?

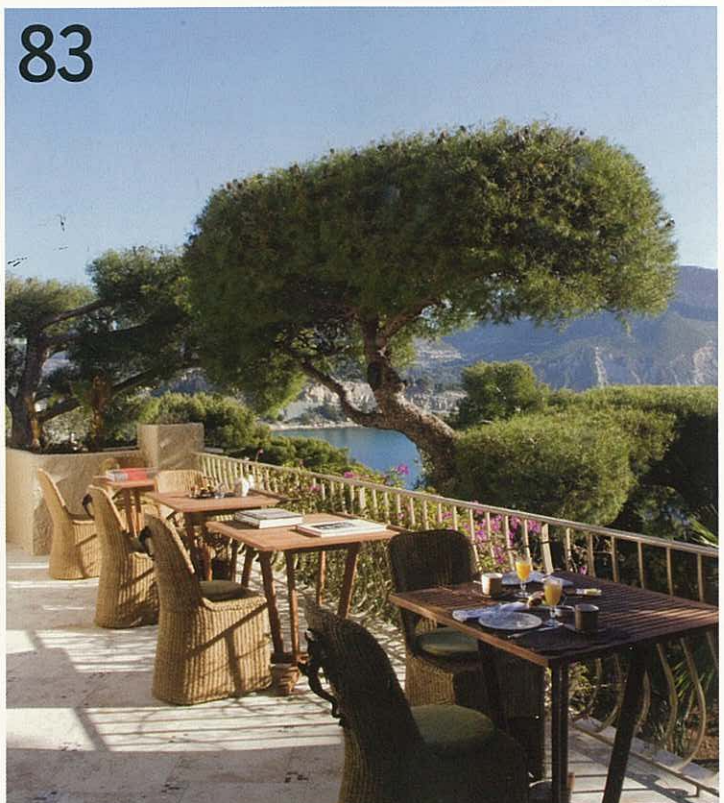

167 Landmark Looking for peace and quiet? Why not visit a battlefield. Raymond Seitz commemorates the Battle of Gettysburg in Pennsylvania

171 The experts The best places to go golfing in autumn, and other travel queries; the adventurer's mobile phone. Plus: are resort kids' clubs a good idea?

207 That was then Disneyland, 1959

208 Room with a view Room 319, The Grand Del Mar, California

83

PHOTOGRAPHS: LIZ HASELL; FREDERIC LAGRANGE; PAUL MILES; SUDHIR PITHWA

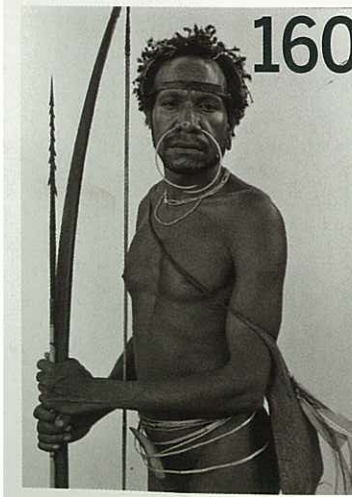

60

75

97

160

43